

BREWERIES

Bevog Brewery (Austria)

Bevog brewery is the fruit of inquisitiveness and aspiration towards discovering new beer-drinking experiences; it is the result of enthusiasm, love and zeal. We brew beers with character and soul. Our goal is to transcend the limits of the known and ordinary. We have had enough of a monotonous beer offer and the belittling of beer. Beer can be and is much more than that. We are very creative and do not stick to the established norms. We design our beers in our own way, the way we know is right. We choose a beer style, take it apart, add a broad spectrum of gained knowledge, ideas and views, put it back together and polish it into our own beer, which is not rigidly cemented in the prescribed frames of an individual style. When creating recipes, we strive towards perfection and above all refuse all compromise, which is otherwise sadly in abundance in modern mass production.

BeerLovers (Austria)

BeerLovers' philosophy: Especially small and independent breweries need to be supported. That's why you can find more than 1300 different craftbeers in about 100 beer styles of over 100 breweries at BeerLovers. Along Austria's biggest online store and the shop in Vienna, BeerLovers offer tastings and gastronomy consulting. Cert. Beer Sommelier Markus Betz represents this craftbeer temple. BeerLovers is a protected and registered trademark of the beverage wholesaler Ammersin.

Barut Brewing and Blending (Slovenia)

3 friends from a biotech yeast lab. Their desire to explore without constraints drove them to escape the academia and settle in an abandoned gunpowder factory in Kamnik, Slovenia (the name "Barut" is a south Slavic word for gunpowder). Over the years they collected and tested many different microbes and the time is finally ripe to show some of the potential mixed fermentations can bring in a bustling brewery scene.

Brew Age (Austria)

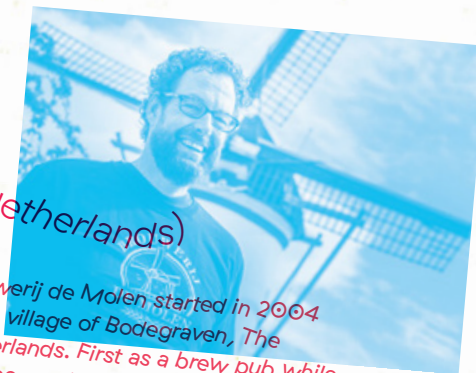

Brew Age is an Austrian start-up brewery with the aim of refreshing the beer market with creative beer styles. We stand for responsibly enjoyed, high-quality beers full of flavour and with our beer range we want to offer an alternative to standard supermarket beers. It is our ambition to brew extraordinary beers with exceptional flavours for real connoisseurs. We are convinced the time for good beer has come and that we can contribute towards making the beer landscape more creative and diverse. That is why we brew excellent beers and are constantly developing new beer styles.

BRLO Brewhouse (Germany)

BRLO is the old Slavic origin of the name Berlin. Together with the suffix “-in” it refers to a “swamp” area or “dry spot in a wetland”. We find this quite suitable for a craft beer brand! Therefore, BRLO is deeply rooted in the history of our beloved capital, but at the same time open to reinterpretation. From the swamps straight into the urban jungle — BRLO represents passionate, creative and handcrafted beer that is both fun and appealing to all the senses.

Brouwerij De Molen (Netherlands)

Master brewer Menno Olivier will attend Bevog Festival and serve five of his beers.

Collabs Brewery (Austria)

Collabs Brewery is based on the love and life for beer of two viennese beer aficionados. The gipsy brewers are always on the road to get inspired by the passion brewers around the world share for beer. The point of Collabs Brewery's beers is that they always have a specific Austrian touch. There are no borders for the experimental curiosity of brew lady Dominique. She loves to work on classic beer styles and recreate them with a modern twist.

Kabinet Brewery (Serbia)

Kabinet beers are here to surprise, refresh and awaken your senses & your memories. As the first greenfield craft brewery in the Balkans we strive to be revolutionaries in Serbia. Thus, we were crazy enough to make more than 50 beers in the first 3 years. Some are herbal, others are brewed with spices or are organic, even Lambic and barrel aged, as well as our gourmet beer spread - Pivolada. As each beer has a character of its own that is why each of our labels is done by a different artist.

Birrificio Lambrate (Italy)

Water, barley malt, hops and yeast. These are the basic ingredients we have ever used at lambrate brewery. We select them with care and attention because only best raw materials and a pinch of creativity, lead to a truly original product.

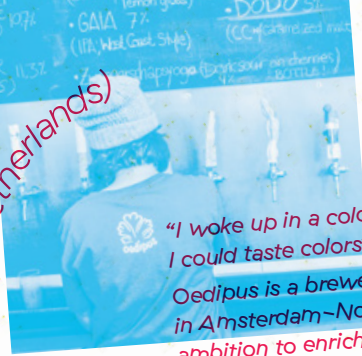

Every beer we brew has its own distinctive character, its own flavour and its own personality. At the same time every creation is designed to be easy to drink and never extreme, following our "beer-for-pub" philosophy. Over the years, our passion for beer and our desire to experiment carried us to create new recipes, to discover new tastes and new alchemies.

Wild Beer Co. (UK)

Põhjala Brewery (Estonia)

Põhjala Brewery is the brainchild of three friends and beer aficionados who, like many a future craft brewer, got tired of the tasteless watery lagers that the faceless megacorporations have saturated the beer market with. We brew small batches of hand crafted ales, using the best malts, loads of mostly New World hops and a relentless passion for good beer. When creating our beers, we are inspired by Nordic nature, Estonian new cuisine and the work of our fellow microbrewers in the U.S., UK and Scandinavia who, in our opinion, are leading the craft beer revolution.

In hops we trust!
